

Private Label Factoring

from Transfac Capital

Introduction

Factoring fills an important niche in the financial services market, providing funding to small businesses not serviced by traditional banks, and high rates of return to investors. However, high infrastructure and capital requirements are a significant barrier to entry.

The Solution

Transfac now offers a Private Label Factoring solution that allows business professionals to own and operate their own factoring company. Tranfac's established operational infrastructure and capital resources eliminate the barriers to entry. This allows professionals with established business contacts to market, sell and build a factoring portfolio under their control, with servicing and funding source provided by us.

Re-Factoring

The program is built on an established concept known as re-factoring. Transfac becomes your serving partner by handling all operations and back-office functions.

A Helping Hand

As your refactoring partner, you will benefit from having a bird's-eye view of our credit, underwriting and operational processes. The value of this mentoring would normally cost you thousands of dollars if pursued through an industry training program, yet it's virtually a free benefit of your association with Transfac.
